

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to
air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of
media consolidation
and goes against our democratic principles of
fairness and
balance.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free
of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. If they get to air "Stolen Honor", then they should also air a
pro-Kerry program
like "Going Upriver"
or an anti-Bush
program like
"Fahrenheit 9/11".
When large companies
control the
airwaves, we get more of what's good
for the bottom line
and less of what we need for our democracy.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
